Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12 November 2004 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The indicated allowability of claims 1-6 & 34-59 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) of JP 10-174799 (cited by applicant, electronic translation supplied by the Examiner). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1746

4. Claims 1-6 & 34-59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by JP 10-174799 (hereinafter "JP '799"). JP '799 disclose a conventional washing machine controlled by and equipped with a first computer coupled to a second computer via an interface, at least one computer having conventional computer components including input (keypad) section, display, flash memory, the computers configured to transfer data back and forth, (see entire document, for instance, paragraphs [0006], [0016]-[0017], [0033]-[0036]), an RS-232C cable connection (paragraph [0006], modem connection for internet (paragraph [0033]). Since the structural components of JP '799 are connected in the manner claimed by applicant, the position is taken that the washing machine of JP '799 anticipates applicant's claims since JP '799 is "configured to" upload and download data. The specific data claimed by applicant is not positively recited (i.e. microcomputer programmed to...) rather is claimed as intended use which merely requires the capability to upload and download data programs (configured to...). It has been held that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Accordingly, recitation of JP '799 reads on applicant's claimed invention.
